Williams' Wildness Proves Sox Downfall

Ohicago Portsider Issues Six Passes and Coupled With Three-Bagger by Kopf, the Cincinnatians Take Second Straight Game 4 to 2.

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

GINCINNATI, Oct. 3 .- The Red tide rose another notch Thursday. leaving the White Sox immersed up to their seamy necks, gasping for sir. Unless they brace up within range of the fragrant oder of home cooking upon the South Side Friday afternoon, the Sox will be floun-dered beyond their depth, without a life preserver in sight. In the second battle the American league champions produced 10 solid blows, while the Reds were thankful to collect four, and yet the latter predominated by the conservative margin of 4 to 2, taking a gift victory from the lavish left hand of Claude Williams, the eminent

Lefty Williams dug his own grave by his wildness. He gave an even half dozen hases on balls, four of which work coined into runs. He held the hard-hitting Reds helpless with the excep-tion of Larry Kopf's triple which came after Williams had walked a pair of Silm Sallee had his troubles throughout but managed to pull through, pitching himself out of several excavations.

Left-handers are supposed to be weak against left-handed pitchers, but Joe Jackson, who hits from the off-side, had an easy time with Slim Salies's delivery, getting three blows, one a double.

Horseshoes were tied all over the Reds, and in every inning they were in evidence.

The breaks in the first two games have about broken the White Sow morale as well as Sox backers.

With Cicette and Williams beaten, the Reds have no fear from now on However, you can never tell in base-ball. The well-known worm may turn at any time.

Eddle Roush gave Redland bugs a sample of his fielding ability when he raced away into the next county and pulled down Happy Felsch's drive which was ticketed for the Chio river. Roush has been a bear at fielding in the first two sames.

Pat Duncan, ex-Baron outfielder, failed to deliver a hit Thursday, but was all there in fielding, sharing the calcium with Roush, his team mate and fellow-gardener.

In the fourth inning with two Reds aboard, Larry Kopf hit the first offer-ing of Williams for three bases. That was the blow that killed Lefty.

was the blow that killed Lefty.

The White Sox had chance after chance to batter down the Red defense, but were unable to push out a hit when it was needed. Silm Sallee pitched masterful ball, especially in the pinches, and turned back the heaviest artillery of the Sox when he was in danger.

John Coilins played rightfield for Chicago despite the fact that he is suffering with lagrippe and maybe the flu. He will be out of the Friday game, with Nemo Leibold going to right field, as the Reds will use a right-hander.

ners end where the Reds need only three out of seven, with a stout pitching stable left.

The Reds are in a natural state of highly buoyed elation, absalutely conflictent that within the next four or five days they will be awarded the chapter of wild manoila blooms which the Red Sox discarded this summer.

The Reds left for Chicago alert, condident and on the drive. The Sox left for home sullen, sore and ready to begin their uphili fight. No one has every set accused them of quitting. They have always fought back gamely and they still believe they can break the spell upon the old south side, get goins again and throw the Reds into a panic.

Dick Kerr will carry their hopes to day and the Sox midget is a cool, game youngster who should go the route. He ien't as big as a drink of water, but for that matter Hindenburg in physical stature towered far over Foch, and you may recall who got the winter's end when these two met.

The famed Sox attack has never yet gotten under headway and we should got the route. He ien't as big as a drink of water, but for that matter Hindenburg in physical stature towered far over Foch, and you may recall who got the winter's end when these two met.

The famed Sox attack has never yet gotten under headway and we should got to water through the Redsea without taking a lesson from the children of Israel who got away with it some 6,000 years ago. But they used a different system. Considerably different.

In the meanwhile raving Red rooters are already of a trip probably be the pitching offerings of Chicago in the ensured the time of a trip water of the winter's grant trouble. The Sox made the mising three games.

The white Sox are in a case of the sacrifice continually. It was an overding the time of the majors of the winter so that the term is a condition of the will be revealed friday, according to the most expert experts.

The White Sox are in day the time of the majors of the sacrifice continually. It was an overding the time of the sacrifice continually in the sacrifice continually. Just how the Reds will perform under fire will be revealed Friday, when they go to Chicago and play before a hostile audience. And it will be notille in all that the term implies, for White Sox fans are all het up over the two consecutive defeats, and will be ready to turn loose all varieties of rooting in an effort to shake the cocksure and chesty fieds from their pedestal.

Three games are carded for Chicago, beginning Friday and extending through Sunday. The Sox are figuring on evening the series and leaving Chicago for Chicanati Sunday night with the series standing 3 and 2 in their favor. Clootte, Kerr and Faber will probably be the pitching offerings of Chicago in the ensuing three games.

The White Sox are in need of a trip to the laundry, as they have been considerably mussed up during the past couple of days. ferent.
In the meanwhile raving Red rooters were parading the steamy streets of this frenzied citadel last night in a jubilee of joy. It's a long lane that knows no turning if you are willing to wait for 50 years.

But today is another day And maybe a better one. . At any rate, I hope so.

Series Receipts

CINCINNATI, Oct., 3 .-- Another record went by the board yesterday when the national commission announced that the total receipts for the second game of the series, exclusive of the war tax, amounted to $57,185. The nearest approach to this figure by the second game of any previous series was that of 1816, when Brooklyn played at Boston and the total receipts amounted to $82,626.

THE RED CHANCE,

THE RED CHANCE.

It remains for Cincinnati to shafter the spell that has followed the name of Sev in world series contests. Neither the Red Sox nor the White Sex have been dropped in any of the five title affairs in which they have participated. Three of these have been won by the Boston club and the remaining two have been taken by Chicago.

As far back as 1996 the Comiskey machine tore into the famous Cubs and took their measure in four out of six games. This was when Fielder Jones was their manager and the box score carried such names as Ed. Walsh. Nick Altrock, George Rohe, Lee Tannehill and Sullivan; and when the eminent Cubs were Chance, Evers, Tinker and Steinfeldt, to say nothing of Brown, Overall, Reulbach, Kling, Hofman, Schulte, Siagle and Sheckard.

Coming back in 1917 with Clarence Rowland supplanting Jones, the Sox joited the Glants in the same startling manner and pulled out of the skirmish with four additional scalps.

FABER HELPS SOX.

FABER HELPS SOX,

Faber's atrong pitching in the 1917 games with Cicotte at his side subdued the pop-ayed Giants in four out of six games. The stand was two and two when the Sox stepped in and peeled off victories in the fifth and sixth starts. In this carnival Eddie Collina tore loose with a 409 batting average and literally smashed the Giants into a shappless mass. His astounding defensive work was another contribution to the complete wreckage of the National league champs.

If the Red assault is powerful enough to hammer down the fighting sox it will mark the first occasion wherein a sox brigade has dropped below the top. If you like figures, scores by inning, etc., you have the dope here on the previous world contests of the Chicago
